School-Emotional Learning: Assessment & Intervention

This presentation aims to enhance psychologists and educators' understanding of Social Emotional Learning (SEL) characteristics, weaknesses, screening methods, and evidence-based interventions. It covers CASEL's five main areas, standardized scales, and published SEL curricula and recommended interventions.

A photograph of a diverse group of students in a classroom. They are sitting at desks, and many of them have their hands raised, indicating they want to participate or ask a question. The classroom is brightly lit, and there are colorful decorations on the walls.

These workshops have been created with the grant funds from the CDE to the IEP Technical Support and Assistance (ITSA) Network.
